

About an ileoscopy

An ileoscopy is an examination of the lining of the lower portion of the small intestine, which is known as the ileum. This procedure is performed with a colonoscope, which is a long, thin, flexible tube with a tiny video camera and light at the end. The scope will pass through your stoma site to view your intestines.

Your intestines need to be cleansed thoroughly to complete the procedure. It is very important that you follow the instructions in this brochure.

You will be given an intravenous line through which sedative medications will be administered.

Planning for other medical conditions

A registered nurse will call you prior to your procedure to go over your health history.

Please contact your prescribing provider if you:

- Take Coumadin, Plavix, or another blood thinning medication. You may be placed on a different blood thinner until your procedure.
- Have diabetes and use any medications to control your blood sugar. Your primary care provider may instruct you to adjust your medication the day before and the day of your colonoscopy. Continue to monitor your blood sugar as usual.
